

The European University Institute in Florence is one of the world's leading academic institutions for postgraduate studies in economics and the social sciences. It was set up in 1976 and now hosts an academic community of about 800 Ph.D. researchers, postdoctoral fellows and professors from over fifty countries in Europe and beyond.

The Economics Department is committed to research on a wide range of topics and runs one of Europe's leading PhD programmes. It provides teaching and supervision for doctoral students at the highest international level. The teaching in the doctoral programme is based on formal coursework in the areas of microeconomics, macroeconomics and econometrics at a level which allows researchers to pursue successful academic careers in leading universities and professional opportunities in international organisations. Recent alumni have been placed successfully in leading international universities such as Paris School of Economics, Stockholm University, Cornell, U.C. Davis, Oxford, UPF, Universität Bonn and institutions such as the IMF, World Bank, European Commission and European Central Bank. The department, together with visiting professors from top universities, offers a wide range of advanced and specialised graduate courses to first and second year students. Furthermore, weekly research seminars in macroeconomics, microeconomics, econometrics and economic policy are given by visiting speakers.

Why choose the EUI PhD programme?

The Economics Department of the European University Institute brings together scholars from all over Europe in an outstanding research environment. The researchers benefit among other things from the following:

- Structured Ph.D. programme with intensive course work and close research supervision
- Four-year grants to most admitted
- Weekly research seminars in Micro, Macro and Econometrics
- Frequent interaction with international faculty
- English as the working language

How and when to apply:

Apply online by 31 January of each year at:

<http://www.eui.eu/GrantInfo>

Faculty

- Árpád Ábrahám (Macroeconomics)
- Jérôme Adda (Microeconometrics)
- Elena Carletti (Applied Microeconomics & Finance)
- Russell Cooper (Macroeconomics)
- Giancarlo Corsetti (Open Economy Macroeconomics), part-time professor
- Piero Gottardi (Microeconomics & Financial Economics)
- Luigi Guiso (Applied Economics & Finance)
- Andrea Ichino (Labour Economics, Economics of Education), part-time professor
- Helmut Lutkepohl (Time Series Econometrics)
- Massimiliano Marcellino (Macroeconometrics)
- Ramon Marimon (Macroeconomics, Learning, Contract Theory)
- Massimo Morelli (Political Economy)
- Nicola Pavoni (Macroeconomics; Economics of Information)
- Fernando Vega-Redondo (Game Theory)

"The EUI offered an extremely stimulating academic environment but also much in terms of cultural and personal development - I can only recommend students seeking to write a PhD in Economics to apply to this programme."

Klaus Adam (2001 alumnus) - Professor at Mannheim University.

"The EUI is not only a place of academic excellence. It is also a place where I met many interesting people and made many good friends. It has a unique international atmosphere, and a spirit of intellectual exchange and debate".

Christian Dustmann (1992 alumnus) - Professor at University College London.

"EUI students are sought after intensely by policy institutions, such as the ECB, because of the very good training as well as the European and international outlook of the EUI.

Marcel Fratzscher (2002 alumnus) - Senior Adviser at the European Central Bank.

"The EUI PhD program in economics offers everything one needs for a very successful career in academics: excellent courses taught by first class professors, numerous seminars by top scholars and, most importantly, a unique working environment with great interaction among students. I highly recommend the program, which is perhaps the best in Europe and in my view highly competitive with most US programs."

Karel Mertens (2007 alumnus) - Assistant Professor at Cornell University.

"The EUI is one of the top PhD programs in Europe. The Economics Department has a strong faculty and a well organized course program. I learned a lot and I had a wonderful time."

Mirko Wiederholt (2003 alumnus) - Assistant Professor at Northwestern University.

Economics Department
European University Institute
Villa San Paolo
Via della Piazzuola 43
50133 Florence - Italy
Tel.: +39 055 4685 927
Fax: +39 055 4685 902

Home page:

<http://www.eui.eu/Economics/>

Current faculty:

<http://www.eui.eu/DepartmentsAndCentres/Economics/People/Professors/>

Overview of the PhD programme:

<http://www.eui.eu/DepartmentsAndCentres/Economics/DoctoralProgramme/>

Placement of alumni:

<http://www.eui.eu/DepartmentsAndCentres/Economics/DoctoralProgramme/Testimonials.aspx>

Education and Culture DG

Lifelong Learning Programme

The European Commission supports the EUI through the European Union budget. This publication reflects the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.